

Mind Slavery

By Dean L. Gano, July 4, 2023

In his very astute article: Free Men and Slaves, Scott Locklin provides us with this epiphany:

“The reality is, slaves through most of human history didn’t require shackles to keep them fixed in place, and they slept in beds and performed work which was normal for their times. Slavery was, and is, very much a state of mind.”

He explains that this mental bondage is very common today and that the Elites have always enslaved the sheeple by making them self-indulgent mental degenerates. He says: “going back as far as Cyrus the Great (600 – 530 BC) the tyrants controlled them with: Have fun, don’t exercise. Here: have some more wine. Don’t experience too much hardship; that would be unpleasant.” And this has continued right up until today, where the majority of Americans are obese, life is easy, and everyone gets a trophy.

Mr. Locklin concludes his thesis by saying: “I’ll let Aristotle (384–322 BC) have the last word on this subject:”

“...the tyrant should lop off those who are too high; he must put to death men of spirit; he must not allow common meals, clubs, education, and the like (e.g.: Lockdowns and Mandates); he must be upon his guard against anything which is likely to inspire either courage or confidence among his subjects (e.g.: Big Pharma Controls Everything); he must prohibit literary assemblies or other meetings for discussion, and he must take every means to prevent people from knowing one another (for acquaintance begets mutual confidence) ... In short, he should practice these and the like Persian and barbaric arts, which all have the same object. (e.g.: Lockdowns and Mandates) A tyrant should also endeavor to know what each of his subjects says or does, and should employ spies, like the ‘female detectives’ at Syracuse, and the eavesdroppers whom Hiero was in the habit of sending to any place of resort or meeting; for the fear of informers prevents people from speaking their minds, and if they do, they are more easily found out. (e.g.: Cancel Culture and Big Tech monitoring social media for misinformation.) Another art of the tyrant is to sow quarrels among the citizens; friends should be embroiled with friends, the people with the notables, and the rich with one another. (e.g.: Vaccines Mandates) Also, he should impoverish his subjects; he thus provides against the maintenance of a guard by the citizen and the people, having to keep hard at work, are prevented from conspiring. (e.g.: Create great fear with a Pandemic Hoax) ... Another practice of tyrants is to multiply taxes, after the manner of Dionysius at Syracuse, who contrived that within five years his subjects should bring into the treasury their whole property. (e.g.: Bidenomics) The tyrant is also fond of making war in order that his subjects may have something to do and be always in want of a leader. (e.g.: All the Wars and Conflicts, starting with the Viet Nam War, were contrived by the Military Industrial Complex.)

So, as you can see, the current cultural idiocy of today is nothing new in the human experience. Another example of this ongoing story is what Johan Norberg, author of “Open”, came across a writing in a museum in Turkey that was dated 3800 BCE that said: "We've never lived in such evil times. Our politicians have never been so corrupt, and the social fabric has never been so decayed." So, the idea that things have been getting worse has been with us for at least 5800 years and it is probably part of the human story that is caused by this slavery of the mind condition.

And the idiocy just keeps coming. For example, the World Health Organization (WHO) via its new International Health Regulations (IHR), is trying to implement the following changes for the Sheeple to accept and follow. And OBTW, the Biden Administration, which is in full agreement with these proposed changes, also helped draft some of them.

IHR Proposed Revisions:

1. Remove the existing International Health Regulations' language granting "full respect for the dignity, human rights and fundamental freedoms of persons."
2. Change IHR recommendations from "non-binding" to legally binding such that all member countries must obey and implement them.
3. Create requirements for digital vaccine passports that will be used to restrict access and travel as the WHO sees fit.
4. Require surveillance of online information and suppression of information deemed misinformation and disinformation.
5. Coerce extreme lockdown measures, including the creation of "quarantine of suspect travelers, preferably in facilities away from the point of entry," aka "quarantine camps" seen during the COVID-19 pandemic in China and elsewhere.
6. Allow the WHO Director General to declare an emergency at will.
7. Require nations to use certain medications while prohibiting the use of others during emergencies.
8. Allow the WHO to commandeer medical supplies in any country, transfer them to other countries, and evade laws on intellectual property.

Given the absurdity of these proposed changes, one must ask if President Biden or anyone in the Federal Government has ever read our Declaration of Independence because every one of these proposed changes is in direct conflict with it, which reads as follows:

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness, --That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, --That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience has shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.

What I find so incredibly interesting about these words of wisdom is that our founding fathers understood the notion that “slavery is a state of mind” when it says (in modern English): ‘...that mankind is more disposed to suffer evil deeds, rather than to right themselves by abolishing the evils to which they are accustomed.’ In other words, people, by their very nature are predisposed to be sheeple and be taken as slaves by the elite psychopaths who are the modern-day equivalent of the Plantation Owners of old. But who are the psychopaths behind this idiocy? According to an insider, it’s the big money financiers like Blackrock, Vanguard, the WHO, and members of the World Economic Forum (WEF).

But a more important lesson here, is that our founding document requires us: “to alter or to abolish” any government that violates these God given rights. So, if Mr. Biden or anyone in our government should sign on to this nonsense that the WHO is perpetrating, the founding law of the land requires us to overthrow it and dispose of these despots.

And as Abraham Lincoln said: “We the people are the rightful masters of both the Congress and the courts, not to overthrow the Constitution, but to overthrow men who pervert the Constitution.”

The scary part is that because these psychopathic tyrants have turned so many people into slaves or Sheeple, there may not be enough freemen left to do the job. Luckily, when the WHO met in late May 2023, they were so incompetent that they decided to delay discussion of these proposed changes to the IHR until 2024. When you read the reports of this meeting and look at the WHO website it becomes very obvious that these people are absolute idiots.

So, Slave or Freeman? It’s your choice now, but the psychopaths are working very hard to change that, so Wakeup Sheeple, or become enslaved. To learn more about how to become an effective thinker, read William Taddit’s book: “Effective Thinking”.
